

Hello,

For the sake of the future of our state and country, please do not pass the Assisted Suicide Bill.

Once this window is cracked open, the floodgates will burst open and there will be no stopping who gets to choose to die and who doesn't.

Rarely is pain the reason for ending ones life.

Isn't suffering simply a part of life?

If I have emotional suffering, do I get to kill myself?

Shouldn't I die with dignity, accepting my sufferings in life just as I accepted my joys?

Thank you for your consideration.

Sharon Christie
Hamden, CT