

I am in support of this bill being passed in CT.

We had a friend who seeing no alternative shot himself in his head. How could this have been less traumatic for him, his family and the first responders who found him? Had the option of assisted suicide been available to relieve his relentless pain he could have died with dignity. The aftermath of his shooting himself has effects that are still felt, he should not have had to take his life in such a violent manner.

I have empathy for people who suffer. Please allow assisted suicide in CT. I hope to never be in such a position, but would appreciate the option, if the situation warranted physician assisted suicide.
