

To whom it may concern,

I am writing today in support of HJ58, which would amend the Connecticut Constitution to allow no-excuse absentee voting, as well as HJ 59, which would amend the Connecticut constitution to allow early voting. While Connecticut implemented versions of both these changes last year to accommodate the current pandemic, I believe that these changes will be beneficial beyond the current circumstances, especially for some of my fellow citizens who encounter challenges with our existing system. Thank you for your time and attention.
