

To our Connecticut lawmakers;

Did we really elect you to allow others to legally steal from landlords? How are landlords to protect themselves from a government who doesn't care about what is right or wrong. Since when do we protect criminal behavior from those looking to harm law abiding citizens?

So, whose terrible idea is this? These bills, SB# 355, SB#6528, SB#6531 have no place in our government. There are many in this state that own rental property. And if we have no protection from our livelihood being ravaged from those looking to deliberately move into a dwelling with the intention of not paying rent, then what is it? It is stealing. This will dismantle the already fragile economy of Connecticut.

Please do not allow criminals to take over our state. Connecticut will no longer be a state where business will want to come, or where people will want to live. A dose of common sense is necessary in order for our state to finally recover from a string of bad policies. Remember that you are elected by the people of this state. We expect our government to do the right thing by us. And we can and will vote them out if they don't.

Most Appalled,

B. Glow
