Want to pay a lot more rent every month? This will cause much longer eviction times and much higher legal fees. Do you know who pays that? Your landlord? No, not really..... landlords pay 100% of their bills with rental income, and this law would also spike your rent to cover all of the money that would funnel into legal aide from this.

This is a way to transfer money from paying tenants to lawyers.

That is not what you really want to do be doing I'm pretty sure.
