state.

Section 8 empowers the Public Utilities Regulatory Authority (PURA) to work with DEEP and The Connecticut Green Bank, electric distribution companies and third-party companies to implement a variety of PURA programs and results in a potential cost. The exact impact will depend on the implementation of the program and whether third party companies will be required to complete.

Ratepayer Impact Statement¹:

The amendment creates a variety of provisions expanding the procurement options available for DEEP to direct electric distribution companies to procure and results in a potential ratepayer impact. The exact impact would depend on the extent the provisions of the amendment result in the procurement of energy that is either more or less costly.

The preceding Fiscal Impact statement is prepared for the benefit of the members of the General Assembly, solely for the purposes of information, summarization and explanation and does not represent the intent of the General Assembly or either chamber thereof for any purpose. In general, fiscal impacts are based upon a variety of informational sources, including the analyst's professional knowledge. Whenever applicable, agency data is consulted as part of the analysis, however final products do not necessarily reflect an assessment from any specific department.
