To the Connecticut Reapportionment Committee,

I'm writing in regards to adjusting Connecticut's voting districts. I feel that the current voting districts do not accurately represent myself nor the people around me. I live in a more rural part of Hartford county, however the city of Hartford is included in this district. The citizens that live in or immediately around Hartford do not necessarily share the same political priorities that I do. However because of their numbers, they can influence voting decisions for me. This is completely unfair.

Please consider establishing an outside group of citizens to redraw the districts. Or please redraw the voting districts in such a way, that the larger cities are by themselves and more of the rural towns that share similar priorities are grouped together.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
